New Law Firm Set to Establish Presence in Litigation, Labor and Employment Law

October 16, 2008 -- Boston, MA

With the strategic alliance of two law practices in place, the new firm of Hirsch Roberts Weinstein LLP is set to open on October 16, 2008 and establish a powerful presence in the areas of litigation and management-side labor and employment law.

The new twelve-person firm is composed of two complementary groups: the lawyers of the former Boston-based firm of Sullivan Weinstein & McQuay, P.C., a longstanding business litigation and labor and employment boutique, and four labor and employment partners from Robinson & Cole, a major New England firm.

“This collaboration is a natural for us,” says Jeffrey Hirsch, a well-known Boston labor lawyer and HRW’s co-managing partner. “My partners and I have worked together for almost 15 years, and we felt we needed a more flexible and entrepreneurial platform to accomplish our goals and to best serve the needs of our clients. The new law firm provides the perfect model for the way we want to move forward.”

Scott Roberts, HRW’s co-managing partner and an experienced litigator, concurs. “Sullivan Weinstein & McQuay has enjoyed a successful practice for many years, but we wanted to expand our capabilities and take advantage of new client and market opportunities. We believe that through the combination of these thriving practices, HRW will be able to offer some of the highest-caliber litigation, labor and employment capabilities in Massachusetts.”
